

Welcome to Falcon Class

We have had a fun-filled and action packed year in Falcon Class! Here are some examples of our learning.

Atttennnntion!

In Autumn we had an Amazing Army Day where we got to; take part in army drill, eat rations, go inside a real tank, look through a rifle scope and communicate with our classmates using radios. We dressed in army uniforms and had lots of fun.

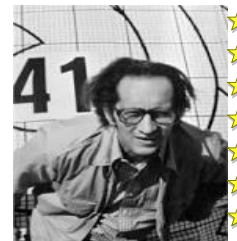

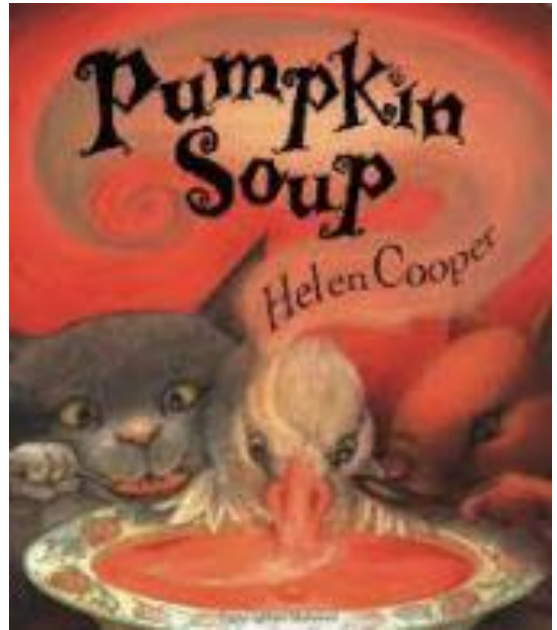

We became time travellers, travelling back in time to the Great Fire of London. We even got a chance to recreate it with our own model houses and became 1666 firefighters!

We loved being artists creating collages based on the work of the artist Frank Stella.

Awesome Autumn

We read the book Pumpkin Soup by Helen Cooper which gave us inspiration for some Autumnal activities

We decided to make some of our own Pumpkin Soup and had lots of fun carving the pumpkin to create the ingredients for the soup.

Here are our final pumpkins, we used these in our Harvest Assembly where we performed our Pumpkin Soup Play.

Amazing Arctic

On our visit to Gilbert
White's House we became Antarctic explorers.

Brrrrrrrrrr! We had a fantastic day learning about Penguins and how they are adapted to their cold environment as part of our Polar Regions topic. We plunged our hands in to ice water and tried on some special 'blubber gloves' to protect our hands from the cold water.

We got to pull each other and even our teacher on a sled.

We also had a Polar explorer day in school where we took part in a number of activities to learn about the freezing Polar Regions.

We made Igloos out of sugar cubes and looked at the amazing colours of the Northern Lights. We used chalk pastels to create the different colours of the lights.

Art inspired by the Polar Regions.

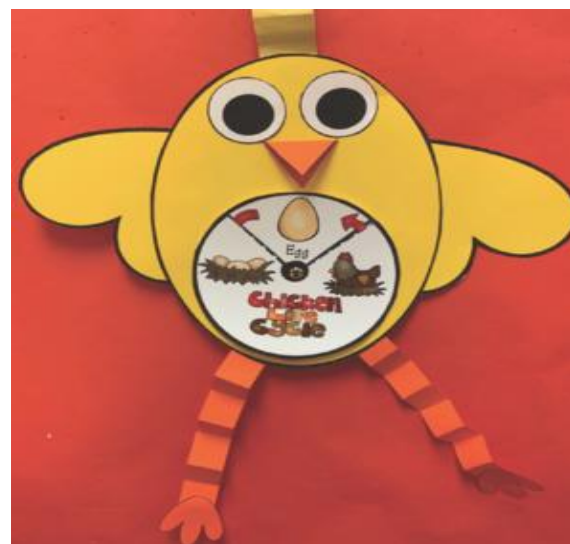

Visit from the chicks

We loved our visits from the chicks. We had a great time handling them and learning all about their needs. We created some science and art work based on their lifecycle

World Book Day was lots of fun. We enjoyed dressing up as our favourite book characters and creating work based on our book: Bob Man on the Moon by Simon Bartram

We became detectives and crash investigators when we found an alien spaceship had crash landed on our school field!

We followed the clues to find out the alien species that had crashed landed.

We then wrote our own stories based on the book Beegu. The children invented their own alien characters and used these in stories of their own.

We had great fun making bunting inspired by King Charles the III's coronation.

CASTLE

We had so much fun at Arundel Castle. We applied the learning we had done in class by identifying the Motte and Bailey and identifying other castle features. We got a personal guided tour and learnt about the people who once lived there. We even got to dress up as people from the time period!
